

Disclaimer of Liability - Traveler

Traveler - Disclaimer of Liability

The undersigned acknowledges that Global Assistance Providers, Inc (GAP) does not guarantee or make and representations concerning _____. While Global Assistance Providers thinks that _____ is reputable and a suitable organization for which to provide the services you desire to provide, we cannot guarantee that fact. Therefore, you assume all risks and ultimate responsibility concerning your visit and the services which you provide to them. Global Assistance Providers's sole function is to match people who desire to assist people in non-profit work with non profit organizations who would benefit from people willint to volunteer their time. Global Assistance Providers provides logistical support in makin travel arrangements and matching the people with organizations. You assume responsibility for performing any due diligence inquiries you deem necessary concerning the organization and people for whom you are providing the services, the place where you are traveling and those who are providing the transportation. You are also responsible for providing food and lodging while traveling and upon your arrival, along with any transportation you may require to provide the services you are providing, unless specifically notified in writing otherwise. You acknowledge that the place where you are traveling may be dangerous and you may be exposed to various deiseases that could present a significant health risk. You are encouraged to visit the Center for Disease Control website to obtain the latest information concerning the area to which you are traveling. You agree to assume these risks and any other risk involving your trip.

Signed on _____, 20__ __.

Traveler's Signature: _____
(First & Last name)